Resources for Pregnant Women Requesting
Decision Counseling and/or
Adoption Information/Services

The agencies/providers on the attached resource list have been categorized according to the primary service they provide. It is important that prior to referring a patient/client for services you verify services provided including location, hours of operation and specific services pertinent to your patient's/client's needs/desires.

Adoption agencies – Besides providing adoption services adoption agencies provide pregnancy/options counseling. The options discussed vary from agency to agency.

Pregnancy options counseling - These are individuals and organizations that provide pregnancy options counseling but are not also adoption agencies or crisis pregnancy centers.

Adoption attorneys - This list includes county attorney offices and attorneys that practice in the field of adoption law.

Crisis Pregnancy Centers – This list includes agencies that provide services for individuals experiencing a crisis pregnancy. Services can include counseling, material needs, pregnancy tests and sonograms but services vary depending on the agency and location.

Title X Clinics – These clinics provide the full scope of services including: education, preventive health screening, contraception and non-directive counseling to low income and uninsured individuals for free or at a low cost.

Tribal Directory – Arizona Tribal Social Services addresses and phone numbers.

The Arizona Understanding Infant Adoption Training Program has not verified the quality of service and is not offering a recommendation for the providers on this list. Women are encouraged to learn what questions to ask before accessing a service. This list may not include all the services in your area.
